International Archives Congress ICA Barcelona 2025

@ICABcn2025

🌍 Preserving our history, building our future 📁

Archives do more than tell our past: they safeguard our rights and strengthen democracy. They play an essential role in ensuring transparency, preserving our collective identity, and supporting good governance.

Since 1948, the International Council on Archives (ICA) has been committed to promoting effective management of archives, documents, and data in all their forms. The ICA works to preserve them as cultural heritage and essential proof of humanity’s history. With a network of more than 2,000 members in 149 countries, the ICA encourages international cooperation, the sharing of experiences, and the ongoing training of professionals in the field.

📁 Why are archives so important?

🔍 They preserve the collective memory of societies.

📄 They provide key evidence to protect our rights and commitments.

👥 They bring experts together and advance archival science globally.

It is with this spirit that the ICA will gather the archival community at #ICABarcelona2025, a major event where professionals, institutions, and experts from around the world will exchange ideas and strategies to address the current challenges in archival work and records management.

📍

Passionate about the world of archives? Join the ICA @ICAArchiv and discover how this dynamic community is working to enhance the essential role of archives and professionals in the field.
